

TagTeam

March 2012 update:

Nearly all the essential features for version 1.0 are written, debugged, and stable. We're just adding some final touches before the first public release. TagTeam 1.0 will subscribe to user-specified RSS feeds and Twitter streams, publish output feeds based on the arbitrary recombination of input feeds, publish output feeds for any tag or arbitrary combination of tags, merge tags from duplicate records, support manual and automatic tag modification, store all records from subscribed feeds and direct tagging, and support boolean searching of stored records.
