

Harvard Library Copyright and Fair Use Tool

February 2012 update

The Law School library is working with the Office of the General Counsel to develop copyright “first responders” training to offer additional help to librarians who need copyright expertise and complement the Tool.